Attlee Cabinet Pulls Through

LONDON, Tuesday (Reuter). — The Labour Government emerged last night shaky but still standing from the crisis caused by the resignation of two cabinet ministers. Labour Members of Parliament declared themselves confident that Prime Minister Attlee's administration could survive off a general election for at least a month or two.

Shawcross Gained Fame As Lawyer

LONDON, Tuesday. — Sir Hartley Shawcross, new President of the Board of Trade, is the son of an ardent Socialist suffragette and a university professor. He has been a member of the Labour Party since he was 18.

He was British prosecutor at the Nuremberg trials. Famous for his handling of the Lynskey Tribunal inquiry into Board of Trade irregularities (involving witness Sydney Stanley), Sir Hartley has emerged as British Labour's most brilliant lawyer politician, famed both for his striking legal technique and his uncompromising integrity in fulfilling the duties of his public office — shown in his work as Attorney-General.

Sir Hartley, who lives on a Sussex farmhouse with his wife and two small children, is specially interested in pig breeding.

Union Official
Mr. Alfred Roberts, appointed Minister of Labour and National Service, a former Trade Union organizer, is not well known outside England. Member of Parliament for the Wandsworth division of Northumberland since 1945, he was previously an official of the Union of Distributive and Allied Workers, and later a Manchester City Councillor.

Parliamentary private Secretary to the Minister of Transport from 1945 till 1947, he became Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Fuel and Power in that year. He is a contributor of articles to sundry journals, newspapers and magazines.

Memorial Rite For Bevin

LONDON, Tuesday (Reuter). — Nearly 2,500 people — personal friends, British statesmen, foreign envoys and trade union members — crowded into Westminster Abbey today for the memorial service of the late Ernest Bevin, former British Foreign Secretary.

Outside the Abbey a crowd of about 3,500 stood in the spring sunshine.

Among the statesmen attending the service and wearing top hats and morning coats was Prime Minister Attlee, who left St. Mary's hospital, Paddington, where he is being treated for duodenal ulcer, to attend the service for his close friend and colleague.

Present also were Commonwealth and Dominion representatives and High Commissioners. Near Mr. Winston Churchill, Arab and Far Eastern emissaries in colourful national dress arrived at the service to be greeted by the Prime Minister.

Four hundred workers arrived by bus to pay last tributes to their old chief.

Electricity Committee Meets at Hakirya

TEL AVIV, Tuesday. — The Electricity Committee, set up to plan power saving during the coming months pending the installation of new generators, met at Hakirya yesterday to discuss rationing proposals.

The committee is composed of representatives of the Palestine Electric Corporation, the Manufacturers Association, the Ministry of Trade and Industry and the Histadrut. A sub-committee of three was appointed to investigate the plans.

The sub-committee held its first meeting today and is due to meet again tomorrow.

Bot Guvra Area Marking Finished

The demarcation of the Israel-Jordan border in the Bot Guvra area was finished yesterday, Israeli sources disclosed yesterday.

The demarcation was started last week, after a number of incidents occurred in the area partly because the border was not clearly marked.

It is understood that a report on the demarcation will be made by a subcommittee of the Israel-Jordan M.A.C. which is Jerusalem tomorrow.

Iran Oil Board Drafts Plan Of Liquidation

TEHRAN, Tuesday. — Persia's Parliamentary Oil Committee today proposed that a Liquidation Board should be set up immediately to seek an agreement with the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company on oil nationalization. A sub-committee has passed two alternative nationalization schemes to the full Oil Committee.

Both schemes provided for the formation of a Mixed Liquidation Board, including members of both Houses of Parliament and Cabinet Ministers, to examine immediately the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's claims and to try to reach an amicable settlement.

According to newspaper reports, other provisions contained in both schemes are:

1. The Mixed Liquidation Board to take over the oil industry and deposit part of the income obtained in the National Bank to meet the Oil Company's claims.
2. Persian workers to be trained as technical staff for all oil operations.
3. Articles to be drafted for a Persian Government oil company to replace the Anglo-Iranian; and
4. From the date of nationalization the Liquidation Board to supervise the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's income and expenditure until a final settlement is reached.

The newspapers added that the alternative proposals also provided for engagement of foreign oil experts and for confirmation of oil buying agreements made by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company with foreign countries.

The time limit for the Liquidation Board to implement their plan was three to five months. To become law after the Mixed Liquidation Board's approval and the sanction of the Majlis and the Senate.

A high government source meanwhile reported that the Iranian Government had decided to "crack down" on Communists who have been active during the past few months. Measures were decided on at a meeting in the Foreign Ministry, the source said.

In London, it was reported that Britain will shortly make new proposals for the settlement of the Persian oil dispute — a plan for which it is to be considered by the Cabinet this week. The plan reportedly goes further than the 50-50 share of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's proceeds.

SHAH GOES ON PILGRIMAGE

TEHRAN, Tuesday (Reuter). — The Shah of Persia, Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, left Teheran today in his own plane for a pilgrimage to the sacred wall of Meashed, 80 kms. from the Soviet frontier, according to court sources.

Mashed, in northeast Persia, is a famous Persian shrine where the Prophet Imam Reza, according to Persian tradition Mohammed's direct descendant, is buried.

400 Held in Iraq

Four hundred persons have been detained in large-scale arrests of Communist sympathizers carried out all over Iraq, Hamallah radio says. They are aimed at preventing any agitation in favour of Iraq's oil.

West Deputies State Limits

PARIS, Tuesday. — The Western powers restated their position and made clear to the Soviet delegate the limits to which they were prepared to go when they met M. Gromyko at Lunin today at the British Embassy. It was understood in usually reliable circles.

However, it was understood on progress was made at the luncheon meeting which lasted for nearly three hours.

Three problems were understood to have been raised at the meeting — the armaments question, Trieste and the Balkans.

It was believed by observers that the Western powers repeated that the level of armaments must be decreased before reduction and that this reduction must not be limited to the four Powers alone. On the question of Trieste and the Balkans it was thought likely that the Western Powers would be in the opinion that in their opinion there was no difficulty in reaching an agreement on them and that they might be prepared to go further to meet the Soviet wording.

U.N. Council to Hear Gen. Riley and Eban

GENEVA, Tuesday (Reuter). — The Security Council will convene again tomorrow night on the Israeli-Syrian dispute.

It will hear the Chief of Staff of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization, General William Riley, and a statement of Israel's position by Mr. A. Eban. It was expected that the Council would arrange its time so as to hear both men at tomorrow's session.

Lie Working On Refugee Plan

U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie is "seriously studying" the refugee problem, with a view to drawing up a concrete plan for presentation to the forthcoming session of the Arab League, Arab radio stations reported yesterday.

Mr. Lie made the statement at a press conference in Beirut yesterday, before boarding a plane for Ankara.

He also said that he would meet the three members of the Palestine Conciliation Commission again when he is in Jerusalem.

Syria officially informed the U.N. that she is ready to absorb all Palestinian refugees who do not want to return to their former homes, providing proper compensation is received, Damascus Radio reported. Making the announcement, Syrian Premier Khalid el Azam added that the final solution of the refugee problem within the framework of the U.N. decision on the subject was the main topic discussed with Mr. Lie.

Visit to Israel

Mr. Lie is scheduled to arrive at Lydda Airport at 1 o'clock on Friday afternoon for a three-day visit. After a press conference at the Airport, Mr. Lie is to take tea with the President at Rehovot and to dine with the Foreign Minister.

On Saturday, he will tour the country, spending the night in Haifa. Mr. Lie will fly from Haifa Airport to Kalandia on Sunday morning and will visit the Holy Places in the Old City of Jerusalem.

Hoover vs. MacA.

LONDON, Tuesday (UP). — A public debate between General MacArthur and ex-President Herbert Hoover should prove "very instructive" at this moment, the London Times suggested today.

5,000 ATTEND EIN GEV CONCERT

EIN GEV, Tuesday. — More than 5,000 persons — the largest audience yet — attended tonight's music festival programme here.

They heard the "Kol Zion Lagala" choir, under the baton of Mr. Shlomo Kaplan, as well as Bokharan, Persian, Cossack and Moroccan ensembles. The Rina Nikova Biblical Ballet troupe performed with Rachel Nadav and Naomi Zuri as soloists.

250,000 Spanish Strikers Defy Threat of Dismissal

MADRID, Tuesday (Reuter). — More workers joined northern Spain's two-day-old strike today, defying a Government threat to sack them all if work was not resumed today. Unofficial estimates were that more than 250,000 were on strike against the cost of living in the two big cities of Bilbao and San Sebastian and their respective provinces of Vizcaya and Guipuzcoa.

Shishakly Heads Syrian Army

DAMASCUS, Tuesday (Reuter). — Colonel Adib Shishakly, Deputy Chief of Staff of the Syrian Army and senior delegate to the Israel-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission, has been appointed Chief of Staff.

Colonel Shishakly, 44, led a Syrian coup d'etat in December 1949, overthrowing the then Chief of Staff, General Sami Hinnawi. At present, he replaces Colonel Anwar Bazzaz, the last Chief of Staff, who had been appointed military attaché to the Syrian Legation in Ankara.

Observers regard this latest move as merely a logical result of the emergence of Khaled el Azam's Cabinet — known to be based on the principle of close cooperation with the Syrian Army and in particular with Colonel Shishakly, regarded by many as "the brain" of Syria's "plot-police regime."

Chinese Pour Through Gap But U.N. Resist Fiercely

Group Plans Closed MacA. Hearings

WASHINGTON, Tuesday. — General MacArthur's testimony to the Senate, to begin on May 3, will be heard behind closed doors unless the former U.N. Commander wants a public hearing. Chairman Richard Russell (Democrat) announced today. Republican and Democratic leaders have urged a public hearing as "far as possible," but agree that at least some sections of the General's testimony will have to be heard in private.

The testimony will be heard by the Senate Armed Services Committee, but it seems likely that members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will sit in on the hearing. It was said here. The inquiry is expected to be "far-reaching," covering all aspects of the dispute with President Truman over Far Eastern policy.

In New York, meanwhile, General MacArthur's personal adviser, Major General Courtney Whitney, claimed that endorsement of the General's views by the Joint Chiefs of Staff "is complete in the official record."

'Decisive' Battle In Korea Now

TOKYO, Tuesday (UP). — The present battle in Korea may well be the "decisive" one of the whole campaign, the new U.N. Supreme Commander, Lt. General Matthew Ridgway, said here today on returning from a flying visit to the front.

Warning that the Communist assault does not appear to have gained its maximum strength yet, General Ridgway described it as "another major effort by our Communist enemy to drive U.N. forces from Korea, which appears to be becoming the heaviest of fence yet."

The U.N. Commander added he was "highly pleased with the tremendous losses" so far inflicted upon the Communists (officially estimated at 15,000 killed or wounded in the first 24 hours of the offensive). He also felt complete confidence in General Van Fleet and the entire command of the Eighth Army, whom he visited on his flying trip to frontline stations today.

BULLETIN

TOKYO, Tuesday (Reuter). — U.N. military forces have taken the town of Hwaseong, slightly east of Chongong, in the central front tonight as a point where the South-Chinese highway was cut and were reported to be fighting the Communists in a stubborn battle. They were said to have taken some ground against vastly superior numbers. To the east, in the Hwaseong reservoir area, the Communists also advanced their position.

Two Allied-held points not shown on this map — Inje, slightly east of Hwaseong, and Yongchong, slightly east of Chongong — fell to the Chinese yesterday.

TOKYO, Tuesday. — Massed Chinese troops accelerating day and night assaults today made gains all along the United Nations' 150-km. front in Korea. They exploited a break-through in the centre and tonight poured through a gap to swarm south of the 38th Parallel. Inje, bastion of the eastern end of the Allied line, and Yongchong, in the centre, fell.

Allied warplanes, supported by artillery, took a tremendous toll of the Chinese advancing through barren valleys and over bleak rock mountains. Up to 30 Chinese divisions were believed to be involved in the offensive — front line reports indicated a new build up on the western front from at least one and possibly two Chinese army groups.

In the Western region north of Seoul Allied troops established a new defence line southeast of the Imjin river after hard fighting. They pulled back from one to 13 kms. Allied tanks cut through Chinese holdings in the south bank of the Imjin river and opened an escape channel for a cut off battalion.

The immediate Communist pressure in the west was believed here not to be so serious as in the centre where Allied soldiers fell back before Chinese surging south from Kumhwa. Many of them escaped through the lines to attack the U.N. men from flank and rear.

Units Cut Off

Some Allied units were cut off and surrounded among the 3,000-foot peaks south of Kumhwa, seized recently by British Commonwealth troops. The encircled troops fought valiantly to carve their way out to the south. Jets helped them by strafing rocket bombardments and bombing with jellied petrol.

One U.N. unit surrounded south of Chongwon — above Communist-held Yongchong — smashed through to rejoin the Allied lines intact. In doing so they slaughtered 700 Chinese in hand-to-hand valley fighting.

Communist aircraft came out today to give battle for the first time since the new offensive started. One Communist MIG was shot down in dog-fights between 24 Sabre jets and at least 20 MIG's over northwest Korea.

An 8th Army spokesman said enemy casualties were 10 times those of the U.N. forces. On the western front an officer said enemy losses were 30 times those of the Allies.

Field commanders described the situation on the central front as critical. But General Ridgway said, "I have complete confidence." Korean officials were not so confident. Great columns of refugees clogged the highways behind the central and eastern fronts.

Enemy losses yesterday were estimated at nearly 12,000 — about one-fourth of them from recent air attacks.

But that is not near out of an estimated 400,000 troops already committed to the attack. As assault forces that are not in reserve in North Korea.

The trapped passengers were panic-stricken as they watched the fire race from one side of the train to the other. The train was packed with passengers. The driver was killed. The train was pulled into the station.

Comptroller's Report Is Start For Administrative Reform

by Gai Economic Correspondent

The report of the Comptroller of the State which has been handed to the members of the Knesset has become a topic of political controversy. News leaked out from the Finance Committee of the Knesset that the report contains certain parts of it and to use it as a weapon against the government. This drew angry retorts from cabinet members, and the report became one of the controversial issues dealt with according to party lines. This is precisely what should have been avoided. Government and opposition should have been equally interested in the facts and figures in the report, and in using it for the needed administrative reform of government services.

Legislation Lags Behind Progress of Pension Funds

Articles in "Davar" (Histadrut) and "Hahaker" (General Zionist) yesterday considered the position of employees' pension funds in Israel from differing points of view. A conference of funds' representatives is to be held this week.

"Davar" reports that the pension funds with their 120,000 members have amassed more than IL16m, and that a further IL6m or more is expected during 1953. The paper enumerates the advantages and achievements of the central organization, including insurance, but points out that legislation lags behind the progress of the plan.
